

Notice of Privacy Practices

Your privacy and confidentiality are important to me. Protected Health Information (PHI) related to your treatment is handled in accordance with HIPAA and other applicable privacy laws.

As a general practice, I do not share information about your treatment with family members, employers, schools, medical providers, other therapists, or other outside parties without your permission or an appropriate Release of Information.

There are limited circumstances in which information may be disclosed without your authorization, including when required by law, when there is a serious safety concern involving harm to yourself or another person, when there is suspected abuse or neglect of a child, elderly person, or vulnerable adult, or when disclosure is otherwise legally required or permitted.

If you use health insurance, certain information may also be shared with your insurance company as necessary for billing, payment, and coverage purposes.

You have rights regarding your health information, including the right to request access to your records, request corrections, request certain restrictions on disclosures, and ask questions about how your information is used.

For questions about privacy or your health information, please contact:
